What's New?

Scotland Local Codes - Allow on-premise collector to collect from EDT Hub with Local code

Internal reference DCMC-3826

Description

Organisations are setup in Docman Connect using their national Organisation Data Service (ODS) code, however Scottish organisations using EDT hub use a different local code. The local code is the national ODS code with the letters removed, for instance the national ODS code A12345 would be converted to the local code of 12345.

When an on-premise collection is setup it will try to collect documents from the EDT hub using the national ODS code. To ensure that documents can be successfully collected from Scottish organisations, the system will now use the local code format to collect documents when the organisation country is set to Scotland.

MESH Certificate Renewal

Internal reference DCMC-3620

Description

MESH client and MESH server application program interface (API) require certificates when connecting to the MESH server to send and receive messages to ensure safe and secure communication.

MESH certificates last for three years and our current certificate is due to expire on 4th June 2024. To ensure we can continue to access MESH, the certificate has been renewed.

Current Issues

File Size 'bloating' post conversion

Internal reference DCMC-3480

Problem

Docman Connect currently uses Aspose.Word and Aspose.PDF as part of the document conversion process. Issues around file size bloating have been reported by numerous customers and internal staff and Aspose have acknowledged there is an issue with file size bloating. The team are investigating another conversion tool which can either fully or partially replace Aspose.

Kind Regards, The Docman Connect Team
